PURPOSE:

Programming policy is designed to guide the Glenwood Public Library when developing and implementing programming. Programming is designed to promote literacy, facilitate the use of technology and meet the informational and recreational needs of all people in the Glenwood community.

SCOPE:

The library presents programs for various age groups, cultures, backgrounds and interest groups. Programs may be targeted at a general audience or be tailored to an age-specific audience. This policy applies to all programs that the Glenwood Public Library sponsors. Programs may be sponsored independently by the library or may be done in cooperation with other agencies.

POLICY STATEMENT:

1. Staff will be responsible for scheduling programs in their work area. These can be produced/created in-house, or they can use outside sources as presenters.
2. All in-house and offsite programs must be scheduled at least 3 months in advance.
  - a. Last-minute program planning should be done sparingly and with the Director's approval.
  - b. The Library will inform the public of programs in a timely manner through print publications, local media, and the electronic media.
3. Staff will all be responsible for scheduling offsite location, either to present a Library program or to meet with a prospective partner/sponsor.
4. Programming topics should augment the library's collection, services, and/or facilities.
5. Program selection and development are subject to the following guidelines
  - a. Provides opportunities to widen horizons, stimulate imagination and reflection, and enlarge experiences
  - b. Meet the needs and interests of the community
  - c. Align to current service priorities and promotion plans
  - d. Meet popular demands, both existing and anticipated
  - e. Present both sides of controversial issues, where possible
  - f. Balances special group interest with general demand
  - g. Does not promote a specific commercial enterprise
  - h. Within operational and budgetary limitations

- i. Program priority is based on its potential to reach the goals and objectives set forth by the libraries strategic plan
  - j. Program content is appropriate for group presentation
  - k. Space and physical arrangements are safe and conducive to effective program delivery
  - l. Programs are open to all, including non-residents and non-card holders. Pre-registration may be required. Some programs are limited to age specific audiences.
  - m. Admission to library programs is free. A small fee for materials may be charged.
  - n. Programs are non-commercial. Presenters may have business affiliations, but no solicitation or promotion for business purposes will be permitted.
  - o. Sale of books/CDs/artwork by authors/performers/artists is permitted as part of a library program when arranged for in advance.
  - p. The library may co-sponsor programs with entries that mission and goals are compatible. Co-sponsorship decisions are made on the basis of shared interest, responsibility, and benefits.
  - q. Programs suggestions from the public and/or unsolicited offers from individuals or organizations to present programs will be evaluated by the same standards used to select library initiated programs.
  - r. Programs are held in library facilities when possible and appropriate. Meeting room capacities will be observed. Other locations will be considered when the library is not equipped to handle an event or an alternate venue will encourage access and attendance.
